Series of Prints, &c.

THIS Plan is calculated to convey the Outlines of UNIVERSAL HISTORY, in Imitation of Madame GENLIS' Method. It may be neceſſary to inform thoſe who have not read that Lady's Writings, that in one of her Works, entitled, "Adele and Theodore; or, Letters on Education," an Account is given of a Nobleman and his Lady, who retired from public Life for a certain Number of Years, in order to be at Leiſure to devote their Time to the Education of their Children. The Caſtle choſen for their Reſidence was ſo judiciouſly prepared for the Purpoſe, that the Pictures, Hangings, and the Stucco on the Walls, were made Vehicles of Inſtruction; and the very Doors and Screens conveyed ſome uſeful Leſſon; ſo "That they acquired knowledge, as it were, by Chance; and the "Lectures given them on Hiſtory, not being confined to Time or "Place, took Effect without their being ſenſible of it."

"The Hangings of the Saloon contained Pictures of the Roman "Hiſtory. On one Side were Medallions of the ſeven Kings of "Rome;---thoſe great Men who made the Republic the moſt illuſ-"trious; --- and every Emperor as low down as Conſtantine. The "oppoſite Side of the Room contained Pictures of the moſt cele-"brated Roman Ladies. In a long Gallery were Paintings repreſent-"ing the Grecian Hiſtory after the ſame Manner. One Room was "hung with Pictures repreſenting Parts of Scripture Hiſtory;

" the young Lady's Bed-Chamber was ornamented with coloured " Prints, relating to the Hiſtory of France, &c."

As this excellent Scheme will not (for obvious Reaſons) admit of general Imitation, it is hoped that the Subſtitute now offered to the Public, will prove acceptable to thoſe who are engaged in the Inſtruction of young Children.

Each Set of Prints will be accompanied by a ſmall Volume, printed in a large clear Type, containing an Explanation of the Plates in eaſy Language, adapted to the Capacities of thoſe for whoſe Amuſement the Prints are deſigned.

The Book of Explanation to this Set, under the Title of "A Deſcription of a SET of PRINTS of SCRIPTURE HISTORY contained in a Set of eaſy Leſſons," is ſold for 6d. ſewed in Marble Paper, or 10d. Bound in Red Leather.
